Success Tip #3: Write Out Your Vision

And welcome back to Day #3 of success tips strategies with The Jackie Jackson and we are up to #3 – our third strategy. Alright, so the third strategy for today is actually planning ahead. I know, it sounds so simple right? But planning ahead really means outlining a vision for your life and a vision for your business and your career, for your family. These are all the different areas of your life that you really need to sit down and pencil out. Now, how many of you have actually done that? Mhmm.

And how many of you, if you have done it, have you sat down and did it with your significant other? Your Purpose Partner. Mmhmm. How do you know that your plan actually aligns with their plan and their vision and are you both purposely going in the same direction? Mmmhmm. Good questions, isn't it?

Well anyway, I keep my plan in my journal. So I use my journal every single day and I actually write out everything that I envision for my life. Right? So things that I actually manifest into reality. So, I don't use my journal to write down anything that's like a bad day or you know, I'm writing down things like, if I'm questioning what life is. I'm writing it down as if it actually happened like in past tense, right, so that is the actual plan. Like I am outlining what already happened. Alright, so that is different. That is very, very different than what a lot of people are used to. So, when you create a plan, you create it with a vision as if it already occurred.

So, that is success strategy #3. Stick with me now, it's getting better and better, ok? We got so much more to go. We have 19 total tips and success strategy #4 is just going to knock your socks off. So stay tuned, don't go anywhere. Alright, success strategies with The Jackie Jackson.
